

FIGURE
18

BIOFUELS PRODUCTION IN THE EU-27

Source: Eurostat

The production of biofuels for aviation has drastically increased post-pandemic, but stalled in 2024 due to high production costs and policy uncertainty reducing incentives for producers to scale output. Similarly, pure biodiesels production was broadly stable to slightly lower in recent years, as shifting policies also limited expansion.

Meanwhile, the production of biogasoline and other liquid biofuels has steadily increased over the years.